

Hamlet[®]

Delivering better grass weed control

Getting the best grass weed control is about taking every step you can to reduce seed return and future populations. That's why we developed Hamlet—our improved formulation giving you better grass weed control.

When every percent counts, achieving better levels of control will help increase yields and improve your return on investment. As part of an integrated weed management programme, using Hamlet brings you another step closer to better control.

Small steps today, big rewards tomorrow.
